2. Reflect upon the process. Is it interesting? Does it include a job that would interest you? What was surprising to learn?

You must refer to the handout: Writing a Structured Paragraph AND MLA Format.

Presentation:

1. Use point-form information.
2. Use visuals: pictures and videos (ex: YouTube - How it's Made)
3. Explain all the steps of the resource to product transformation. Make sure to acknowledge your audience and have a good tone of voice.
4. Make sure that you are presenting your topic in a logical order.
5. Use appropriate vocabulary for the topic presented.

Chosen Product:

Do not plagiarize! Summarize the information you have found in your own words. You must cite your sources in a Works Cited page (bibliography at the end of your research report.)

When you quote information word for word, use quotation marks and indicate the source within the sentence: "... (dictionary.com).

When you summarize information in your own words, do not use quotations. You must indicate your source within parentheses at the end of the paragraph.
